About IPLI

IPLI is a two-year institute designed to address the professional needs of Indiana principals with an emphasis on student success.

Year 1 will focus on increasing the principal's leadership capacity. IPLI utilizes the Process Communication Model to support this work.

Year 2 will bring two teacher leaders to the seminars to focus on improving the school with the Principal. IPLI utilizes Marzano's High-Reliability Schools Framework to support this work.

Action research in both years is the foundation for each principal and school team to create plans to enhance their leadership and their school's learning capacities.

The mission of IPLI is to provide building-level principals with the skills & tools needed to increase their personal leadership capacities, as well as to increase the learning capacities of their school.
