

Welcome IPLI Director Kelly Andrews

On August 1, 2020, Dr. Kelly Andrews began her tenure as the Director of IPLI. A 20-year veteran school administrator, Dr. Andrews started her career as an elementary teacher in Centerville, Indiana. She has served as a guidance counselor, assistant principal, and principal in various Indiana districts, most recently as principal at Charles Elementary in Richmond, Indiana. Dr. Andrews was very active in the Indiana Association of School Principals and served as President in 2015. Before joining IPLI, she was the Executive Director of Doctors Charter School of Miami Shores, Florida, and served as a member of the Board of Directors for the Florida Consortium of Public Charter Schools.

Dr. Andrews is looking forward to her new role as Director of IPLI. "This is a new and uncertain world for our principals, schools, and families, but it is also an exciting time for educators to create, experiment, and dream of new possibilities. At IPLI, we look forward to encouraging and fostering new ideas as well as supporting and building confidence in our leaders as they increase their leadership learning in this different and special time in our educational history."

Former Director Dr. Linda Marrs-Morford will remain on staff through the end of September to aid in the leadership transition process before officially retiring. Then, she's off to work on her bucket list and spend time with her family in Austin, Texas, and Billings, Montana. Enjoy retirement!

IPLI Seminars

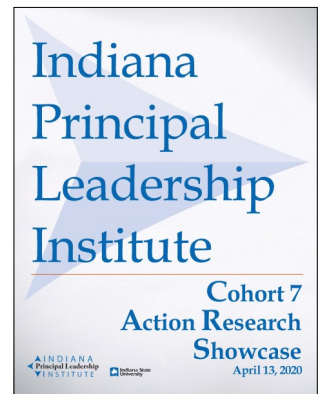

April 2020

The IPLI April Seminars were highly impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, as our typical face-to-face seminars went virtual. In April, both Cohort 6 and Cohort 7 were scheduled to present their action research projects in a conference-style format. Instead, Cohort 6 teams and Cohort 7 principals recorded their presentations and submitted them to IPLI to be posted on the website. You can view these projects by going to the IPLI website - <http://indianapli.org/> and clicking on the Cohort 6 Showcase of Schools program or the Cohort 7 Action Research Showcase. Links to the video presentations can be found under each presenter’s abstract.

Cohort 7 principals viewed Dr. Steve Gruenert’s presentation – School Culture Rewired online. In addition, principals received their school culture data and identified areas of strength as well as areas for potential growth.

IPLI put together a video for the Cohort 6 graduation ceremony. Dr. Todd Whitaker presented Leading in a Time of Crisis, and IPLI Leadership Team Member Mike Pinto shared Next Steps – Why Not? The YouTube Link to the IPLI Cohort 6 Graduation Ceremony is available at <https://youtu.be/BcJSeExGosI>. It includes the presentation of the IPLI Cohort 6

Riley Wagon and a tribute to Cohort 6 graduates. Principals and mentors celebrated during their May and June regional focus-cohort meetings.

Congratulations Cohort 6!

Summer 2020

The IPLI 2020 Summer Seminars were held virtually via Zoom. On Tuesday, July 14, 2020, Cohort 8 principals and mentors kicked off their two-year program with keynote presentations from Dr. Todd Whitaker - Leading in Difficult Times: What Great Principals Do Differently, and Dr. Nancy Dana - The Power & Passion of Inquiry.

Dr. Tammy Heflebower presented The Journey to Becoming a Professional Learning Community: An HRS Overview & Focus on Level One to Cohort 7 principals, teacher-leaders, and mentors on Thursday, July 16, 2020. Rick Wormeli and Tina Boogren were originally scheduled to present on Wednesday, July 15, 2020, but their presentations have been moved to Sunday, November 22, 2020, as part of the IASP Fall Conference.

In every instance, the first step [high performing school] leaders took was to clarify what was non-negotiable. What are your non-negotiables? How are they communicated? How do you monitor and measure non-negotiables? -Dr. Tammy Heflebower

The principal need no longer be the “headmaster” or “instructional leader,” pretending to know all. The more crucial role of the principal is as head learner, engaging in the most important enterprise of the schoolhouse - experiencing, displaying, modeling, and celebrating what it is hoped and expected that teachers and pupils will do. -Roland Barth, 1990, shared by Dr. Nancy Dana

September 2020 - Virtual

IPLI’s September Seminars will be held virtually with three great days of learning for our school leaders. On Tuesday, September 22, 2020, Cohort 7 principals, teacher-leaders, and mentors will hear from Dr. Phil Warrick - The Journey to Becoming a Professional Learning Community: Effective Teaching in Every Classroom – HRS Level 2.

Dr. Rhonda Roos will be the keynote speaker for Cohort 8 principals and mentors on Wednesday, September 23, 2020. Rhonda’s session is titled Principal Toolbox Time!

Dr. Warrick is back to dig in deeper into HRS Level 2 – Effective Teaching in Every Classroom with IPLI Extended participants on Thursday, September 24, 2020.

In addition to hearing from excellent speakers, school leaders will have opportunities to share their mini action research projects and network with other leaders around the state.

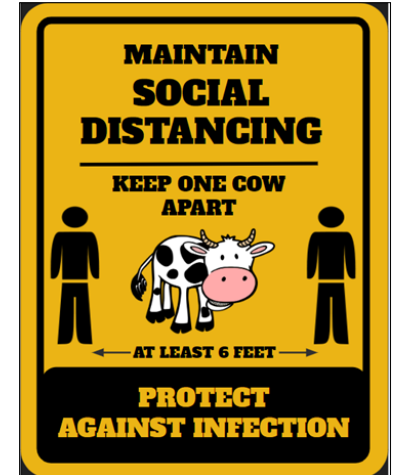

Ideas to Ponder

3 W's: Communicating Safety in Bullet Points

By Mike Pinto, Principal at James Cole Elementary, IPLI Cohort 8 Mentor

When school begins this year, all school officials will be offering messages that will promote student and staff safety. It is important when communicating to remember that simple and concise messages stick. Following the rule that communication should be in “Billboards or Bullet Points” will help you communicate in this simple, concise way. Billboard messages are short, attention-grabbing, and easy to read as you travel down the interstate at 65 miles per hour. Bullet Points offer the reader’s eyes something to land upon with simple, digestible morsels that can be easily read and remembered.

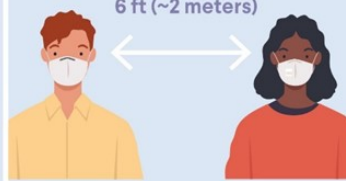

One such “Billboard Message” I plan to use are the 3 W's:

- Wear a Mask
- Wash Your Hands
- Watch Your Distance

Easy to remember. Rolls off the tongue. Can be seen and understood while walking quickly in the hallway or remembered over the announcements. Think “Billboards” and “Bullet Points” this school year with your messaging. Remember as well to practice the 3 W's. Stay safe.

3 W's to reduce risk of COVID-19

Wear a mask 	Wash your hands 	Watch your distance 6 ft (~2 meters)

Connecting with Students & Families

By Leigh Barnes, Principal at John Simatovich Elementary, IPLI Cohort 8 Mentor

As servant leaders, we all realize the importance and value of the events we hold at the beginning of each year to welcome students and families back. These annual events at our elementary school may include our new student welcoming, open house nights, kindergarten and 1st-grade family meet and greets, a Boo-hoo/Ya-hoo Breakfast for our kindergarten parents, and a community ice-cream social.

This year, these traditional back-to-school events have been canceled to limit building access to students and staff according to our re-entry plan. Without these events, how will we connect with our families and students at the beginning of this school year to build relationships, connections, and partnerships? Our intent is to still provide opportunities for students and families to feel welcome, connected, and more at ease as we transition into a new school year. Here are some of the ideas we are thinking about:

- ◆ Virtual tours of classrooms
- ◆ Teacher and staff introductions through Seesaw or Flipgrid
- ◆ Bitmoji classroom and teacher welcome slides
- ◆ Daily virtual news videos
- ◆ Principal tours of main areas in the building with procedures presented throughout the video
- ◆ Pic collages with teacher pictures (see photo on the right).

Our weekly communications with our families take little time and go a long way! Below is an example from one of my weekly newsletters, “We are confident in that WE will TEACH your children to prepare them for exactly what they need to be successful at the next grade level, LOVE on them to make them feel special and important here at JSE, and INSPIRE them to grow confidently both socially and emotionally.”

These are a few of the ideas we plan to expand on as we begin our new year. Please share your ideas with other IPLI family members by sending them to IPLI’s new director, Kelly Andrews, at kelly.andrews@indstate.edu.

Happy New School Year!

High School Graduations Done Differently

Mooresville High School Principal Brian Disney

Graduation was held in-person on Saturday, July 25, at 10:00 a.m. in the Mooresville High School Curry Center. Although attendance was limited to under 1,000 (typically 3,200+), 295 of 343 graduates participated. Some graduates were already at basic training, college, etc. Students were seated with their two family guests in a group of three throughout the gym for social distancing. Much of the ceremony was pre-recorded, including the traditional "Senior Slide Show." Pictures were taken by a professional photographer. The ceremony was live-streamed for the first time to over 1,500 live device viewers. Thank you to MHS Pioneer TV program. With a factor of 2.5, that would be over 3,700 live "online" viewers! It is now available on-demand on the school's website.

Kouts High School Principal Tom Stoner

Many high schools looked outside their districts' facilities to find venues large enough to host graduations this summer to meet social-distancing requirements. Kouts High School held graduation at a local church on June 13, 2020. Graduates were seated together but six feet apart. Only parents/guardians were allowed in the building and were also seated six feet apart in the remaining spaces. The graduates also had tickets for cars to be parked outside the building where the ceremony was broadcast live on a 22-foot LED screen with sound through an FM radio station. Each graduate was limited to two cars.

High School Graduations Done Differently

Milan High School Principal Ryan Langferman

MHSI created a blended model for their graduation ceremony – virtual and face-to-face. The traditional ceremony was prerecorded. On Saturday, May 30, 2020, graduates and their families drove in front of the gymnasium at MHS and received their diplomas from Principal Langferman. Families were limited to two vehicles, and only the graduate was allowed out of the vehicle. The graduates then lined up for a caravan through town, led by fire trucks. Community members stood on their front porches or sidewalks to celebrate the students. MHS created a virtual graduation video of all of these events, and each graduate received a copy. You can view the video at https://youtu.be/zXQISBj_iIM.

November Seminar

IPLI at the November IASP Fall Conference

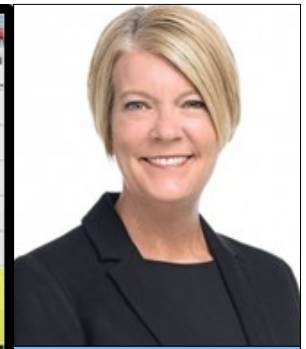

The IASP Fall Conference will look a little different this year for IPLI principals and teams. Wednesday of the IPLI 2020 Summer Seminar has been moved to Sunday, November 22. Cohort 7 principals, teacher-leaders, and mentors, along with Cohort 8 principals and mentors, and IPLI Extended Cohort 2 participants will hear from two outstanding educators on this day.

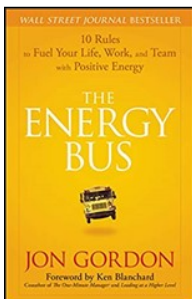

Rick Wormeli

Rick Wormeli will kick off the afternoon session. Rick is one of the first Nationally Board Certified teachers in America, and his instructional practice includes 39 years teaching math, science, English, physical education, health, and history, as well as coaching teachers and principals. A well-known national and international speaker and consultant, Rick brings innovation, energy, validity, and high standards to his presentations.

Dr. Tina Boogren will close out the afternoon session. Tina is a former classroom teacher, English department chair, teacher mentor, instructional coach, professional developer, athletic coach, and building-level leader. In addition to presenting at the school, district, state, and national levels, Tina is the author of numerous articles and books, her most recent being 180 Days of Self-Care for Busy Educators.

Dr. Tina Boogren

On Monday, November 23, 2020, Jon Gordon, author of The Energy Bus: 10 Rules to Fuel Your Life, Work, and Team with Positive Energy will be the morning keynote. IPLI principals and mentors from Cohort 7 and 8 and IPLI Extended participants will meet in their regional focus-cohorts during the lunch break. Looking forward to seeing you at the Fall Conference!

Resources

By Tiffany Barrett, Director of Member Services

IASP has developed several new resources including the new IASP Shared Solutions, the new LeaderCast podcast series, a redesigned Indianagram, and our new, customizable IASP mobile app to serve you and your staff.

Our newest program is our Shared Solutions Series. These virtual meetings are designed around the most pressing issues confronting educators today and connect educators across Indiana with solutions. The Shared Solutions Series began in March 2020, in response to our pivot to virtual education and will continue throughout this school year as an added benefit and resource. This program often includes a content expert offering suggestions and resources; participants then have the opportunity for live collaboration with the expert and with each other. This series is available to anyone, regardless of membership status, so it's a great way to invite others to join the conversation as we come together to share solutions.

We have also developed an educator resource page on our newly redesigned website that includes many resources and materials that are relevant and available to administrators. The IASP Shared Solutions archive, along with book and podcast recommendations, free resources for families, and Social-Emotional Learning resources, are all housed in this one-stop-shop for educators.

Our podcast series has grown over the past year, and we are excited to announce that this year our LeaderCast and newly redesigned Indianagram will both revolve around the themes that are of most importance to educators today. With expert authors around the state sharing their best recommendations and suggestions, all school leaders will be supported, regardless of position. The LeaderCast will also share vital information, suggestions, and best practices from experts in the field that align with the content you will receive through the Indianagram each month.

IASP has expanded our Member Specialist's role to further support individual members and those who help lead the IASP Districts. These roles were established prior to the coronavirus pandemic, and their ability to find resources and offer programs is the right fit during this time. Our IASP District Presidents will also coordinate their district meetings and will offer a virtual option to ensure more members can connect and learn together.

Indiana New Administrator Leadership Institute

INALI Kicks off Cohort 7

The Indiana New Administrator Leadership Institute (INALI) welcomed its seventh cohort on Monday, July 20, 2020, at the INALI New Administrator Workshop. This year's cohort includes over 80 new deans, assistant principals, and principals. INALI's biggest cohort ever! Year two for INALI Cohort 6 began on Wednesday, July 22, 2020.

Modeled after IPLI, INALI is a two-year intensive professional development program for new administrators. Participants attend a summer workshop, either the IASP Assistant Principals Conference or Fall Conference, and day-long seminars in September and February. In addition, new school leaders are divided into regional groups that meet monthly and are mentored by current and/or retired school administrators.
